

The goal in designing your bonsai tree or shrub is to achieve a product as close to a natural specimen growing in natural surroundings as possible.